122 Years of Goldhanger Parish Magazine

There has been a Parish Magazine since 1895 when the Revd. Frederick Gardner started it shortly after being appointed Rector at Goldhanger. In 122 years there have only been a few breaks in publication, most notably during both World Wars.

Magazine Editors:	Stephen & Chris	788369
		parishmag@goldhanger.org.uk
Magazine & Website	Morag Wood	788495
Advertising :		advertising@goldhanger.org.uk

NB - All editorial copy to be submitted by midnight on the 15th of the month. All advertising (including For Sale and Wanted) to be submitted by midnight on the 13th of the month please.

Adverts and donations are to be delivered to Morag Wood, Advertising Coordinator, at Elms Bakery, Church Street (next door but one to the Cricketers).

Web Advertising: If you would like your advert included on the Goldhanger website, please contact Morag. It's pretty cheap for a year and your ad will go on one of the top viewed pages.

To advertise For Sale or Wanted items in the magazine the minimum donation is £1 per advert. If you would like to donate more it would always be welcome.

* Please note: We cannot guarantee the delivery date of your magazine. Please bear this in mind when advertising functions at the beginning of the month.

This magazine is run entirely by volunteers and relies on donations and advertising to fund it. It costs approximately £1 per issue to produce. We print about 340 copies each month. Please bear this in mind when submitting your personal interest articles.

Donations can be made at any time by dropping them in to Morag (details above) or you can go to the Goldhanger website and click the PayPal button (you don't have to have a PayPal account - you can use a debit or credit card).

Goldhanger is also on the internet at: www.goldhanger.org.uk

The magazine is available in glorious technicolour from the Goldhanger website.

The ancient wooden posts in the Creek

There are many pieces of wood projecting out of the mud in the Creek and some of these appear to be the remains of an ancient jetty. An archaeology report of 1910 about the salt works and redhills around the Creek had a map showing a square of "Pile Foundations" in the middle of the Creek. This month's cover picture is an early 1900s postcard view and shows that the sand and mud has moved significantly over 100 years. However, many of these posts can still be seen today at low tide, as seen here...

Past Goldhanger amateur historian and notable character Crawshay Frost was convinced these were the remains of a Roman jetty and an ancient ship. He investigated the site in the 1940s and an article appeared in a local newspaper in 1947. Frost employed teenagers to build a barrage to drain the water and clear the mud from around the piles to access it.

This incredible photograph was found recently in a magazine called The Sphere also dated 1947. The title was:

SEARCHING FOR ROMAN REMAINS IN THE ESTUARY OF THE BLACKWATER

The caption read:

"Boys from Maldon Secondary School at work uncovering timbers in Goldhanger Creek. They are helping Mr. Crawshay Frost, a well-known local archaeologist, to expose what Mr. Frost believes are the remains of a Roman pier".

The Ship's keel he recovered was displayed at the front of his house in Fish St for many years and the remains of it are still in the village.

GOLDHANGER, LITTLE TOTHAM and TOLLESHUNT MAJOR W.I.

Our next meeting is to be held on Wednesday March 1st and our speaker will be Dudley Chignall. The subject of his talk is BEATRIX POTTER. There will be a 'flower of the month' competition so have a look around your garden for a single stem flower brave enough to show itself above the parapet. This is the time of year that we collect in the cakes for Farleigh Hospice and we will be discussing this at the March meeting.

Our last meeting was different. Sadly, our speaker had a family bereavement during the afternoon and had to cancel. She was most concerned and let us know immediately. Carol and Margaret quickly found some humorous items to read out, by Pam Ayres and Sandi Toksvig, and there was more chatting time than usual but the evening went well. A representative group of chaps from the Village Hall Committee arrived to tell us all about the plans for the new entrance and we were very gentle with them. Thanks for all the information Gentlemen.

The 'flower of the month was a wonderful spotted hellebore brought along by Sheila and second place was taken by Linda's mauve wallflower. Everyone enjoyed the lovely refreshments. Thank you to the members who made and served them. Thanks also to the team that set up the hall so efficiently.

Activities for March are the Chelmsford Ballet on 22nd March and the Lent Lunch on Friday 10th March, always a popular village event, with the proceeds going to Christian Aid.

Eileen Madsen

Sadly my mother, Eileen Madsen, died on 31st December 2016.

Eileen lived in Goldhanger with her husband Ron for 23 years, and was a regular attendee at church and very involved in church activities, helping to do the flowers, and other village activities. She enjoyed lasting friendships with many people in the village.

She would wish to be remembered to all those who knew and loved her.

Sales of the Goldhanger Past book

Sales of the book have gone really well, we have sold 170 copies and taken orders for another 30. As anticipated I was able to place a large order with the printers in early December which reduced the printing cost considerably and maximised the surplus to pass onto the Church and the Village Hall.

Orders still seem to be coming in, but it is now timely to report that we have been able to send cheques for £450 each to the Treasurer of St. Peter's PCC and to the Treasurer of the Village Hall committee. We requested that the Church uses the funds for a local project such as the proposed sound system or heating project and that the Village Hall uses the funds for their planned VH improvements project.

The Maldon Tourist Information Centre has now offered to stock the book at their High St office.

Many thanks to everyone who has helped to make the project a success.

DID YOU KNOW?

Lemons contain more sugar than strawberries

Joke

Q: What did one toilet say to the other?

A:

You look a bit flushed.

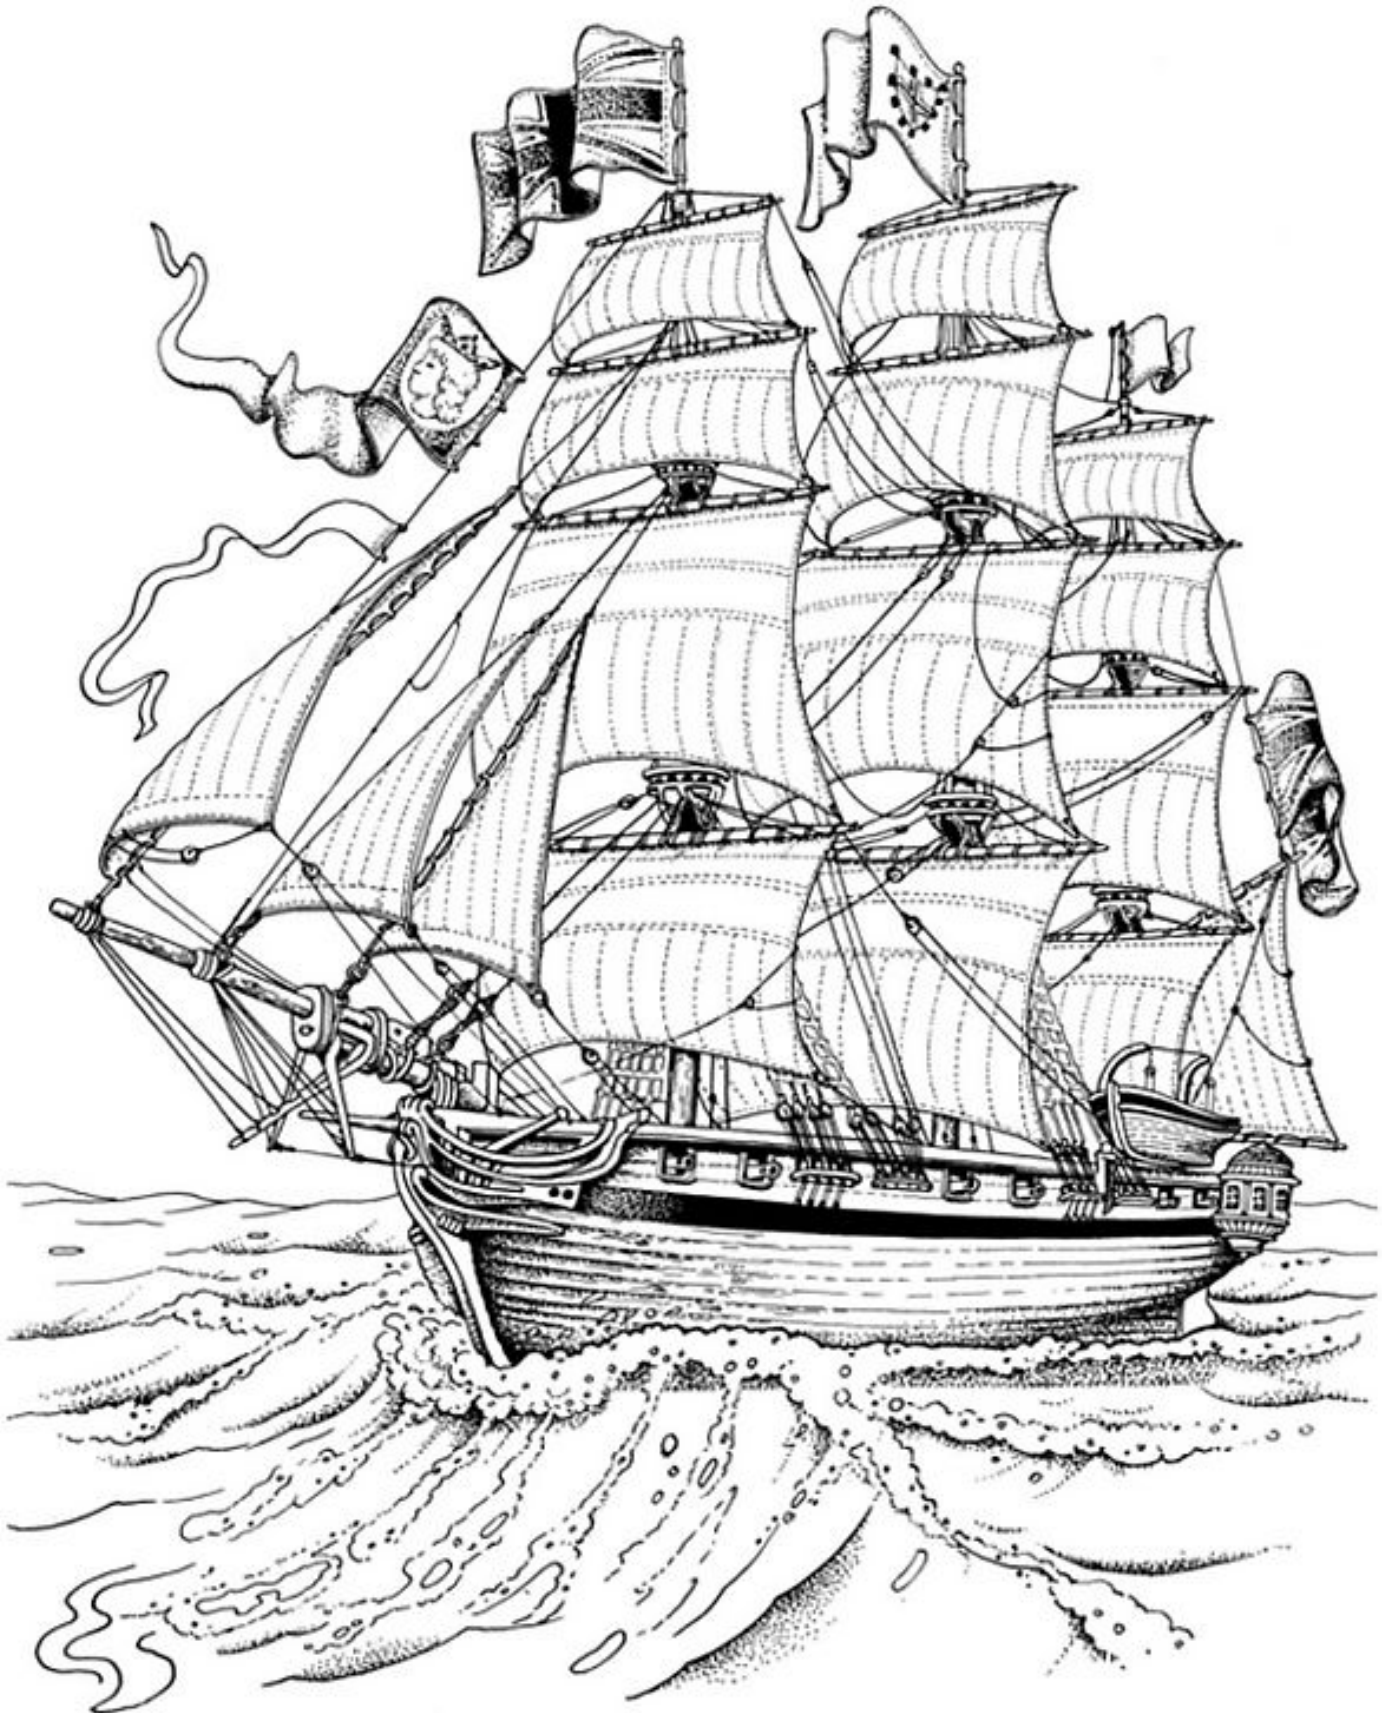

All living things need energy to live, and energy comes from food. But, have you ever seen plants munching on pizza or eating a bowl of cereal? Nope. Plants get their energy in a different way. They use photosynthesis. Here's how it works:

Plants take water from the soil through their veins, which are called xylem. The water goes to the leaves. The leaves take carbon dioxide from the air into the plant. The carbon dioxide mixes with the water. Energy from the sun helps this process along and turns the combination into a sugar called glucose. The glucose is plant food. It gives the plants energy to grow.

GOLDHANGER PARISH COUNCIL

Report on the Ordinary Meeting held on 14.2.2017

Work on the village sign, the replacement of the goal posts in the playing field and the new bollards in the Village Hall car park will all take place when the weather improves.

The Speed Indicator Device in Maldon Road is not working and will be repaired shortly.

Planning Councillors noted the following decision by Maldon District Council:

LDE/MAL/16/01437 Hofflands Little Totham Road Goldhanger	Claim for Lawful Development Certificate for a dwelling without any residential occupancy restriction and which is immune from future enforcement action relating to any residential occupancy restriction	Refused
--	--	----------------

The following new planning applications were considered:

LBC/MAL/17/00040	Clockmakers 2 Head Street Goldhanger	The construction of a small single storey extension to the rear elevation (North) together with the removal of internal partitions to create a family kitchen/utility area within the existing 1974 built extension. This application was supported .
HOUSE/MAL/16/01514	23 Maldon Road Goldhanger	Loft conversion This application was supported .
FUL/MAL/17/00068 PP-05732763	Goldhanger Village Hall 22 Head Street Goldhanger	New frontage extension to village hall to enhance and upgrade the facilities for community use This application was supported . The Village Hall Management Committee is seeking grants for this work and the Parish Council will provide a letter of support for the scheme.
TCA/MAL/17/00141	St Peters Church Church Street Goldhanger	T1 Lime – Pollard This application was supported
TCA/MAL/17/00107	St Peters Church Church Street Goldhanger	T1 Lime- crown reduction and dead wooding, removal of branches overhanging roadway. T2 Horse Chestnut – remove single small branch crowding adjacent to the Irish Yew This application was supported

Play area and playing field

Councillors discussed the inspection report on the play area and the contents were noted. The sharp edges on the slide will be removed and painting of the equipment will take place when the weather improves. Consideration will be given in the long term to replace some of the present equipment.

A quote has been sought for work to level the undulations in the footpath from Fish Street to the sea wall.

Public rights of way

Further details were received of the proposed English Coastal Path and the scheme for Maldon to Salcott. It is proposed that the public will not be given access to any areas of saltings outside the sea wall.

Highways

Concern was expressed at the number of traffic accidents which have taken place in the parish recently. A record is being kept of each incident.

The Parking Partnership meeting which was to have considered the adoption of parking restrictions in Fish Street has again been postponed.

Marigold Wood

The Council will purchase two dog waste bins which will be placed in the woodland – the exact location to be decided. It was felt that there are sufficient bins in other parts of the village.

Phone Boxes and Defibrillators

The consultation period for the adoption of the phone box in the Square is nearly at an end, and then the defibrillators will be placed in the boxes.

The next Ordinary Meeting of the Parish Council will be held on Tuesday 14th March 2017, and the agenda will be published on the Council's website. Minutes of each meeting can also be found on the website.

Goldhanger Neighbourhood Watch Suspicious emails

In January I received two emails ostensibly from someone who has recently left the village. They were both different and had a greeting, a short message including a link to a website, and one finished with "Thanks so much". I suspect hackers had got hold of their computer address book. My security system on the computer had removed the links and functionality in each of the emails and put them in the "Spam" folder. I have no doubt they had malicious links that could have been harmful. I have deleted them and emptied the "bin".

This sort of thing can happen to any of us but it's worth keeping in mind a few basic safety tips.

- 1 If an email looks suspicious or unusual, don't reply or use a web link in it.
- 2 Keep your operating system (Windows, Android, and Apple) up to date. Make sure your system is set to "Automatic Updates". Firms like Microsoft spend a lot of money to make sure their systems combat the latest threats.
- 3 Unless you have an Apple product (iPad & iPhone have built in security) keep your Anti Virus and Firewall up to date. I use Kasperski Total Security, which is recommended by the banks and "Which?" magazine. It can be bought fairly cheaply from shops like W H Smiths and is very safe & easy to use.

If you want more information on current scams and threats, look on the Police "Action Fraud" website. However, with some basic precautions you can keep safe using your computer, tablet, or smart phone. After all, you wouldn't sit in a Coffee Shop with your wallet or purse on the table.

Keep up to date by joining the free & confidential Goldhanger Neighbourhood Watch email scheme goldhangernw@outlook.com and goldhangermatters@outlook.com for general village issues.

Goldhanger is relatively safe; let's keep it that way.

Wildwatching News

There is something of a Waxwing, (Pictured), invasion this winter, which isn't unusual, but they seem to be present in greater numbers than in some years. There have been some seen in Goldhanger, in and around the churchyard. They are a bird of the Arctic/Northern Europe in summer. I have a vivid memory of a birdsong that I didn't recognise in Finland, just south of the Arctic Circle, in June one year. It took me ages to find it in the dense forest – but it turned out to be a Waxwing. They are more familiar here in winter flocks, which vary a lot in number from 3 or 4 to a couple of dozen or more. They particularly like feeding on cotoneaster berries.

An (Almost) daily bikeride on local lanes continues to reveal the expected Fieldfare calls, and the occasional call of a Buzzard, particularly on milder days. Early one morning, Nina and I heard a Little Owl, (Pictured), calling – “Kiu!” They aren't difficult to see around here as they are active in daylight, but not normally in the middle part of the day. They can be seen as a small “Lump” on a post or a dead tree branch, or perhaps picked up in car headlights at night, when they are flushed from the side of the road. Little Owls were introduced into this country from Europe in the 1800s. Their success in adapting to our cool, damp climate is surprising – they tend to be a bird of dry or semi-desert parts of Europe and North Africa.

With wildlife watching, there's always something you can do, even in the most unlikely circumstances. Due to a family bereavement, I've had to make several trips up to the West Midlands lately. This has provided an opportunity to count raptors along the M11, A14 and M6. Buzzards and Kestrels can turn up anywhere, and there are sometimes several Red Kites along the A14, particularly on the milder winter days. My closest fly-past of a Buzzard for a long time happened at a huge re-cycling plant, in the shadow of the M6 motorway, only two or three miles from my late Father's house. The bird was calling loudly – that lovely mewing sound.

The February Second Thursdays visit to Abberton took place on a somewhat bracing winters afternoon. There was a drake Smew present, and three females, and one drake Goldeneye, all winter visitors and all seen from the Layer Breton causeway. Smew, (Pictured), along with Goldeneye, are members of the Sawbill family of ducks. They dive beneath the surface to catch small fish. Serrations on the inside of the bill make it easier to

The Vicar/Rector writes: Lent - and the light at the end of the tunnel

In times of suffering, we are very inclined to feel, “Why me?” Alongside the grief, anger, despair, or whatever we are feeling is the genuine puzzlement and inability to understand, expressed as “Why?” It’s especially a puzzle for those of us who would call ourselves Christians - after all, God is all loving and all powerful, as the Christian faith and before that the Jewish faith has taught for thousands of years. It’s impossible, on the face of it, to reconcile God being all loving and all powerful with the fact that suffering comes our way sometimes.

There is also a deep-seated feeling in some of us that when we suffer it’s as a punishment for something we have done wrong. I hope I can deal with that one fairly quickly, or much better still, let the words of Christ deal with it: at the beginning of Luke’s Gospel chapter 13, he clearly says that two different lots of people who had suffered had not done so because of their own personal guilt. These were some Galileans who had been killed by the Roman Governor, Pilate, and eighteen people who had been killed when a tower in Siloam collapsed onto them. Unless there are obvious links between our wrongdoing and our suffering, “He who lives by the sword shall die by the sword,” as Jesus puts it, then there are no links. (What would make a good modern version of those words of Jesus’? “He or she who drives too fast will have a nasty accident sooner or later?”)

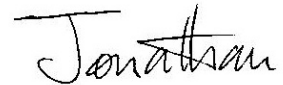

There are no quick, easy or simple explanations to the problem of suffering. A new Hospital Chaplain that I’ve read about comes to mind. She had only been in the job for a few weeks when she became ill herself, with cancer. It was naturally a great shock to her, but it was some time before the reality came home: She who had trained to minister to others now found others ministering to her. Her whole world was turned upside down. As she lay in the hospital ward it was the cleaner who came to hold her hand, and reassure her. She thought at first that she needed to terminate her employment. Then she realised a deeper truth – that her ministry lay, at least for the time being, in being powerless rather than powerful. There was no better way of showing the love of God to her fellow patients than in being vulnerable herself, and in having to surrender herself completely to the love and care of God.

It’s a lesson that I’ve learned time and time again myself over the years, not the least of which was when Katie, the first of our two children who we lost at birth, died. At her funeral service I read a letter to Katie that I had written, pouring out some of my thoughts and feelings. At the time I wanted to be seen as the capable young Curate who was coping well with the sudden and devastating tragedy. (Don’t worry – I’ve changed quite a lot since then!) As I began to read the letter, it didn’t go according to plan. My voice began to wobble as the lump in my throat got bigger and bigger, and it took several deep breaths for me to be able to get through it at all. I was told afterwards that there wasn’t a dry eye in the place! It wasn’t through my silly pride that Christ spoke at that service, but through my vulnerability as a bereaved Dad.

The only thing that can make any sense of our suffering is that Christ suffered as well. While still only about 33 years of age, he suffered wrongful arrest, and faced a kangaroo court which led to him being flogged and crucified, a most horrible death. He suffered the mental anguish of knowing that he had to go through with it all as well, especially when he was in the Garden of Gethsemane prior to his arrest.

Christians observe all of this in the latter part of Lent, the season leading up to Easter. It's observed not in a morbid or gratuitous way, but in a way that recognises that Christ took the suffering of the world, yours and my suffering, onto himself. If it's possible to reduce it down to one word, it's our need that he took upon himself – and dealt with it. It doesn't end with His death, (and in him, our death), but Easter follows, (Celebrated on Sunday 16th April this year), the light at the end of the tunnel. Christians believe that suffering and death didn't have the last word, but that he rose again having dealt with it all – and that we can share in his having dealt with it all as well. The light at the end of the tunnel indeed!

Service of Confirmation

There will be a service of confirmation by Bishop Roger at Goldhanger church, on Wednesday 26th April next year, 7.30pm.

During my time as Vicar/Rector of these three parishes, we have hosted a confirmation at Little Totham and Great Totham. It feels good, therefore, to have this one booked for Goldhanger.

Confirmation is traditionally about what it sounds like – the candidates confirming as adults or as older children the promises made on their behalf, by parents and godparents, when they were baptised as infants. It's also the traditional route to being able to take communion. Today we would want to affirm all of this, while putting emphasis on confirmation being an expression of deepening faith and commitment. If you have never been baptised, you could be baptised and confirmed together in the one service.

There will be preparation sessions, probably on Saturday mornings, and probably beginning some time in February, but this can be flexible due to the needs of individuals. As Sue has said in her article, these sessions can also be about exploring faith and doubts, without the commitment to be confirmed at the end of it.

Alternatively, you may be interested in being confirmed, but, for some reason, you would find it difficult to come to the preparation sessions. In this case we could look at alternative means of preparation, one-on-one, or whatever.

If you are interested, or know anyone who might be, please contact either Sue or myself, a Churchwarden or anyone you know who is a member of one of our churches, who will pass on the details.

Formation of a WEA group in Goldhanger

Workers' Educational Association

Over the coming months, I am hoping to form a branch of the Workers' Education Association in Goldhanger.

The WEA is open to all adults irrespective of background or qualifications. Its aim is to provide courses in a relaxed and friendly atmosphere where students can learn at their own pace. Some of you may already be aware of this organisation and attended one of their courses. Many local towns and villages already have branches including Maldon, Tiptree and Tollesbury.

The purpose of the association is to provide educational courses of interest to the local community. The variety of course on offer is exceptional and cover History, Literature, Art, Architecture, Archaeology, Music and many other subjects. Courses tend to be 8- 10 weeks long and run once a week for about 2 hours.

At this stage I am just hoping to get a small group together to explore the setting up a branch in Goldhanger. The Essex regional organisation is very enthusiastic about the possibility of Goldhanger forming a branch and is offer a lot of help and support to get a branch underway.

If anyone is interested in helping form a group please contact Steve Clarke either by email or phone sclarke720@btinternet.com 01621788246. Below is a link to the Essex regional group which shows where the branches are in Essex and also lists the courses on offer.

I would recommend looking at the Colchester Branch as it is the biggest in Essex and has courses running all through the week.

Recipe of the month

Gingernuts

Makes 15ish (depending how big you make them)

INGREDIENTS

60g butter
175g self-raising flour
60g brown sugar
100g black treacle (yum)
3/4 teaspoon bicarbonate soda
2 teaspoons ground ginger

DIRECTIONS

Preheat the oven to 180C/350F/Gas 4.

Rub the butter and flour together until the mixture resembles fine crumbs and then stir in the sugar.

Warm the treacle in a pan and stir in the bicarbonate and ground ginger.

Add the treacle and ginger mixture to the butter and flour mixture and knead well to form a soft dough (that'll make your hands nice and sticky).

Roll into balls about the size of a walnut.

Place well apart on oiled baking sheets, and flatten slightly (don't bash them completely flat).

Bake in the oven for about 15 minutes.

Allow to cool slightly before transferring to a wire tray.

Enjoy.

If you have a recipe you would like to share, please send it in to us.
